ARCHBISHOP SAMPLE'S CORPUS CHRISTI MESSAGE

June 11, 2023

Remember the description of the life of the first Christians two thousand years ago, which we find in the Acts of the Apostles? One of the things to which those earliest Catholics devoted themselves was what they called the “breaking of the bread.” (Acts 2:42). This is the way the early Church described the celebration of the Eucharist.

Think about that. Jesus has only recently ascended back to the right hand of the Father. The Apostles are still alive. And the Church is already celebrating the Eucharist — celebrating Mass! They were doing this because they took to heart what Jesus himself had said: “This is my Body...this is my Blood...DO THIS in remembrance of me.” They also understood what Jesus said in the Bread of Life Discourse as recorded in the Gospel of St. John, chapter 6: “Truly, truly I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you; he who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day.”

The most holy Eucharist has, from the beginning, always been absolutely central to the life of a Catholic. The Second Vatican Council reminded us that the Eucharist is the “source and summit” of the Christian life. The Council also taught clearly that within the Eucharist is contained the entire spiritual good of the Church — namely Christ himself.

Pope St. John Paul II’s very last encyclical letter was about the profound mystery of the holy Eucharist. In it he said that he wished to rekindle in the Church a “Eucharistic amazement.” We should be amazed — in awe and wonder at so incredible and holy a mystery! In the Eucharist the body, blood, soul, and divinity of Jesus Christ is truly present. This is his profound gift to us.

As we celebrate the Feast of Corpus Christi this year in the midst of a national Eucharistic revival, I wish to remind everyone of this centrality of the Eucharist in our lives. To be more specific, I wish to remind us of the importance of participation in the celebration of the Holy Mass. It is our grave moral obligation to participate in the Mass on every Sunday and Holy Day of obligation. Maybe some of us have forgotten this.

But why should we have to speak of “obligation?” If Jesus himself had invited you to the Last Supper (the first Mass), or to stand by his mother at the foot of the cross, would you have had something better or more important to do? Yet that mystery is exactly what is celebrated and made present at every Mass. I pray that God will reawaken in you that awe, that you will find joy in the invitation to the Mass.

Blessed Corpus Christi to all! In Christ, Archbishop Alexander K. Sample
