from the desk of Father Baier...

I hope that you are well and happy. A second cardinal virtue is Temperance. It controls our strong desires. Imagine that you had a great desire all the time to eat chocolate. What is it that keeps you from eating it all the time? How is it that you are able to sustain yourself with a well balanced diet of vegetables, fruits, nuts, meats, and other food in addition to chocolate? Perhaps a silly example, but the virtue of temperance recognizes that we as human beings have strong appetites and desires. We cannot always give in to those desires but rather we need to balance them. When we live in temperance we are most free. We are free because instead of our passions deciding what we can do, we ourselves decide what we will do. When we don't have temperance in money we become greedy, when we don't have temperance with food, we become gluttons, and in other areas we can become lustful, violent, or slothful. Are you temperate with the way that you use your telephone? Or do you have an uncontrollable need to check for messages and updates? Temperance keeps us balanced. I have the sense that here in St. Paul with all the hops that are grown that people enjoy a good beer from time to time. I actually do also! However, especially when we drink alcohol we need the virtue of temperance. Having too many beers or glasses of wine, or sips of whiskey, can begin to impair our ability to make good decisions and that affects not only us, but the members of our families.

Temperance can govern our work and our health as well. One can certainly exercise too much to the detriment of their relationships with others and it can lead to a personal vanity. The same is clearly true of our work. Work is good, but not when it begins to interfere with our relationship with our families and with God. It has been suggested that the sign of the beast, 666, is a number that signifies the person who works without ever resting. Seven is the number of perfection because God created the world in 6 days but remember that on the 7th day God rested and that we too should find time to stay balanced in our lives, give thanks to God and rest. Temperance works together with the other virtues to keep us in balance and to keep us free.

I hope that you are well and happy.

Fr. Scott Baier

GOING DEEPER INTO YOUR FAITH– Join Father twice a month at 9:15 am after the Saturday morning Mass to study for about an hour about your faith. This year we will study the papal encyclical Lumen Fidei, and the Gospel according to John. We'll meet again on October 16 and October 30.

MEN'S GROUP-There is some interest in a morning men's group on Saturday's. We will gather once a month in the parlor of the parish office at 730 am with coffee and adjourn promptly for the Mass at 8:30 am. We will begin on October 9th!

FAITH FORMATION FOR CHILDREN—Father Baier is offering some family catechesis and preparation for first reconciliation and first communion throughout the year after Mass from 10:15 -11:00am. In addition to prayer and understanding the sacraments, we will also spend some time looking at and understanding the parables of Jesus. We will meet generally every second and fourth Sunday, starting October 10. Please let Fr. Baier know if you have an interest in attending. Classes would be with parents in attendance.
